Confirmation of Internship Requirement According to Study- and Examination Regulations

I herewith confirm that all undergraduate students enrolled in the bachelor degree course in Geophysics at the Faculty of Physics, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) are required to undertake an internship. This internship is prescribed by the Study- and Examination Regulations for the bachelor degree course in Geophysics. This regulation also defines the scope and type of exam.

Eight credit points are awarded for this internship. Each credit point is equivalent to a 30-hour working period. The total time to be spent for this internship should be 240 hours. This time frame includes organising, applying, carrying out the internship as well as postprocessing and writing a final report. Considering a working time of 30-40 hours per week, the internship should last 3-4 weeks in total.

<http://www.gpi.kit.edu/Leitfaeden.php#berufspraktikum>

Detailed information can be found in the digital version of the Study and Examination Regulations and their appendices, the study plan and list of exams.
